How to use Resource of the Month

The Leadership Institute is proud to bring you the Resource of the Month section. This area of our website highlights topics that are important to every woman. We invite you to think creatively about how to best utilize this resource in your organization. To get started, we have listed a few of our favorite ways to utilize this information:

- ✓ Roundtable discussion- Ask your organization's members to review the articles, websites, and books and facilitate a discussion about the topic.
- ✓ Online personal development- Pose a question to your members about the associated topic. Ask for them, via email, to respond with their thoughts.
- ✓ Academic work- Use the Resource of the Month as a starting point for research papers and other class projects.
- ✓ Create your own presentation- Use the resource list to create your own presentation on the associated topic for your members.
- ✓ Of the month club- Select a book, article, and/or website from the resource list each month. Ask members to read/ review the document and start a conversation on their thoughts.
- ✓ Women with Purpose- Contact our women with purpose to learn more about who they are and what they do. Many of them are authors, speakers, and leaders. They are excellent resources for mentorship and learning.

Is there another way that you use the Resource of the Month?

We would love to hear from you!
